Zero vs First conditional

www.ublearner.com

The first conditional describes a particular situation, whereas the zero conditional describes what happens in general.

- if you sit in the sun, you get burned
- *When I'm too tired to cook,
I order take-out.*

here I'm talking about every time a person sits in the sun –
the burning is a natural consequence of the sitting.
Here the ordering food in general, true all time.

- if you sit in the sun, you'll get burned
- If I'm too tired to cook tonight,
I'll order some take-out.
